

Physician Assistant Studies

leading to a Master of Science Degree

School of Physician Assistant Studies Mission

The mission of the Alderson Broaddus University School of Physician Assistant Studies is to academically and clinically prepare physician assistants who deliver high-quality, patient-centered, primary and specialty care, with physician supervision, to diverse populations.

The School of Physician Assistant Studies strives to:

1. select highly qualified applicants through a non-discriminatory admissions process.
2. provide an educational experience to produce competent physician assistants trained to provide quality healthcare to diverse populations in primary and specialty settings.
3. emphasize the importance of life-long learning skills and the need to adapt to an ever evolving healthcare environment.
4. continuously evaluate program effectiveness in an effort to increase student achievement and improve program quality.

Program Educational Objectives

Graduates will achieve high-quality academic and clinical competence for professional practice as a physician assistant. The following six core competencies drives the curriculum and students will be continuously evaluated on each throughout their training.

1. Medical Knowledge - Graduates will demonstrate core knowledge about established and evolving biomedical and clinical sciences and the application of this knowledge to patient care using an investigatory and analytic thinking approach to clinical situations.
2. Interpersonal and Communication Skills - Graduates will demonstrate interpersonal and communication skills that result in effective information exchange with patients, the patient's families, physicians, professional associates and the health care system.
3. Patient Care - Graduates will demonstrate care that is effective, patient-centered, timely, efficient and equitable for the treatment of health problems and the promotion of wellness.
4. Professionalism - Graduates will demonstrate a high level of responsibility, ethical practice, sensitivity to a diverse patient population and adherence to legal and regulatory requirements.
5. Practice-Based Learning and Improvement - Graduates will be able to assess, evaluate and improve their patient care practices.
6. Systems-Based Practice - Graduates will demonstrate awareness of and responsiveness to the larger system of health care to provide patient care that is of optimal value.

Application Process

The Alderson Broaddus University College of Medical Science, School of Physician Assistant Studies participates in the Central Application Service for Physician Assistants (CASPA) for the receipt and processing of all applications on a rolling admissions cycle. This means that applications are processed and interviews are arranged as applications are received, NOT after the application deadline has passed. The deadline for the CASPA application for the Alderson Broaddus University School of Physician Assistant Studies is March 1 of each year.

It is to the applicant's benefit to apply early and complete the application as soon as possible. With submission of an application later in the process (before the deadline) your application will still be considered, processed, and interviews arranged; however, after the class fills, applicants will be evaluated for a wait list.

The CASPA application can be accessed at <https://portal.caspaonline.org>. Questions concerning the CASPA application should be discussed directly with CASPA customer service by e-mailing caspaifo@caspaonline.org or by calling 617-612-2080.

All required materials must be received by CASPA before the application can be sent to Alderson Broaddus University. CASPA does not send original documents to Alderson Broaddus University. If an applicant is admitted into the Program, he/she must have all official University transcripts sent directly to Alderson Broaddus University. Applicants must submit three (3) recommendation forms/letters (CASPA Electronic Evaluations).

Supplemental Application - The supplemental application must also be received by the CASPA application deadline of March 1st. There is no fee for the supplemental application.

Background Checks and Drug Testing

Alderson Broaddus University School of Physician Assistant Studies obtains criminal background check information on applicants to the Program. Candidates who do not provide accurate, truthful and complete information regarding their criminal history on the Program application may not be offered admission into the Program or may have their offers of admission withdrawn. If the University learns that a student failed to provide accurate, truthful and complete information about the student's criminal history after being admitted into the University, the University may suspend or expel the student from the Program and the University or take any other appropriate disciplinary action against the student in the discretion of the Student Progress Committee.

The Program also requires applicants to submit to a urine drug screen. Any applicant who has a positive test result will be referred to the Student Progress Committee for review. A positive drug test result may result in the applicant not being offered admission into the Program or having any offer for admission withdrawn.

Further, all students enrolled in the School of Physician Assistant Studies must complete required clinical clerkships in order to graduate from the Program. Many of the health care providers with whom the University affiliates to provide clerkship opportunities for students require that criminal background checks and drug tests be conducted for students. Information obtained from the criminal background checks and/or drug testing may result in health care providers refusing to accept students for clerkship opportunities.

The University has no control over the decisions made by health care providers regarding whether a student will be excluded from participating in a clerkship opportunity because of the student's criminal history or drug testing results.

All students who accept the offer for admission into the University's School of Physician Assistant Studies, by their enrollment in the Program, agree (1) that they have been advised herein that they may be excluded by health care providers from participation in certain clerkships, through no fault or control of the University, which may delay or prevent their completion of the School of Physician Assistant Studies; and (2) that they will hold the University harmless and not bring any type of legal action against the University for any damages of any nature whatsoever that they may sustain as a result of their inability to be placed in required clerkships due to the results of their criminal background checks or their drug tests.

Students enrolled in the Program with positive criminal background checks or drug test results will be referred to the Student Progress Committee for review. The Committee, where appropriate, will take disciplinary action in accordance with the University's applicable policies and procedures, including possible suspension or expulsion from the Program. The costs of all criminal background checks and drug testing required by the University and any clinical health care provider for a clerkship must be paid for by the student. Some clinical sites also require fingerprinting, the cost of which is also the responsibility of the student.

Program Expenses

Program expenses are based on current tuition and fees for the 27-month Program. Yearly increases are typical and likely to occur. Clinical phase travel and housing expenses are based on estimated living expenses, mileage costs to and from clinical locations, and expenses related to local hotel housing during call back days.

All program expenses are updated annually and can be found at: <http://ab.edu/financial-aid/price-of-attendance/>

Refunds

Program Withdrawals: If a student drops from the program up through the regular registration period, the student is not charged for that course. However, if a student withdraws from the program following the regular registration period, he/she will be charged for the tuition.

Withdrawal from the University: For students who withdraw from the University during the fall, spring, or summer semester, pro rata refunds of tuition, room, and board will be given through the ninth week of the semester. All financial aid awarded for the semester will be pro-rated as well. No refunds will be given to students who withdraw after the ninth week, or to students who are dismissed or suspended from the University.

The pro-rating will be based on a 15 week semester rounding of the refund down to the nearest 10% of the time after; deducting any unpaid charges owed by the student, which the student has been charged; adding an administrative fee of 5% of the charges assessed or $100, whichever is less.
