2020-2021 Special Circumstance Review Request (Dependent Student)

Student Name: _____

ID # of Last Four of SS# _____

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is the tool used to determine a student’s need-based financial aid. Circumstances may exist which are not reflected on the 2020-21 FAFSA. This form is designed to provide the FAO with some basic information regarding special circumstances that have occurred since you filed the FAFSA or unusual family circumstances not accounted for on the FAFSA.

Here is how the Special Circumstance process works:

1. Complete and submit this form to provide the FAO with information regarding your special circumstance. You will need to answer the questions based on 2020 calendar year as this special circumstance request is for the 2020-21 academic year.
2. FAO will use this information to estimate if the information provided on this form appears that your special circumstance information:
 - (a) may change your EFC significantly enough that your financial aid package might be affected
 - (b) won’t significantly change your EFC enough to affect your financial aid package
3. FAO will contact you via email within 14 business days to inform you of the estimated calculation based solely on this form
4. If the estimation results show that your special circumstance could potentially change your financial aid package, the FAO will give you further instruction at which time:
 - You must complete verification (if not already chosen by the Department of Education). Verification is a process that verifies the accuracy of the information on your FAFSA. It is important to note that verification could result in a reduction of financial aid should the information on the FAFSA be incorrect.
 - You will be asked to provide the required documentation to substantiate the information on this form.

Please direct any questions regarding completing this Special Circumstance Questionnaire to the FAO at (304) 457-6354.

PLEASE COMPLETE THE FOLLOWING, SIGN AND SUBMIT TO THE FAO BY EMAIL – fa@ab.edu – OR FAX – 304-457-6391.

SECTION B:

WARNING: If you purposely give false or misleading information, you may be fined, sentenced to jail, or both.

By signing, I affirm that the information on this form is true and complete to the best of my knowledge. I give the FAO permission to speak to both the student and parent listed on this form regarding this Special Circumstances request. As well, by signing below, I understand:

- I may apply for only one Special Circumstance review each year.
- I may apply for each applicable circumstance only once during the student's career at Alderson Broaddus University.
- The FAO will use the information provided on this form to estimate if the circumstance reported might change my Expected Family Contribution (EFC) significantly enough to qualify for additional financial aid. If so, the FAO will instruct me of the next steps, which will include completing Verification and providing documentation.
- Completion of Verification could result in a lower financial aid package.
- Completion of the Special Circumstance process may not result in additional financial aid being awarded.
