

Everyday work editor

customwritings

Everyday work as an editor greatly affects attentiveness, especially at the end of the working day.

Not only eyes are tired, but also begins to figure out the brain slower, which means to skip small errors (not critical). Verification of commas takes no less time than the end of the text and its editor.

To get rid of yourself from unnecessary trouble and inspire attentiveness, came up with a special grammar check service - an orphgrade.

This online assistant makes it easy to check offers for grammatical, lexical, punctuation and other errors.

Sign up simply: Enter the email address and password. After authorization, fill in the necessary data with your personal account and start work. Here we do this: copy the text from Word and insert into an empty field, then the program will show where there are errors.

The service is easily looking and typos, which cannot be noticed with quick and fluent reading.

No less interesting is the online service of the Conoram, which absorbed all the rules of our language. It is easy to find answers to questions related to spelling words. Allowed urgent verification of commas. It is not necessary to register. We introduce words in the field and enjoy the result. The program is convenient, it will suit everyone, serves as an excellent helper, in addition to exercises for copywriters.

How to find a script? Yes, very simply enter the name in the search and here it is in front of you.
When to put commas?

Each of us studies from the first class to the last. Despite such a long period in studies, some still have difficulties with punctuation. The problem occurs not even in the absence of signs, but in their oversaturation. Massified commas where it is not necessary, so let's understand. Learn to get rid of too much, it concerns the words-parasites of the Russian language.

No program will check the text better than a person, learn to memorize the rules together. We put a comma:

Between the two unions (which, while, and, if, that), where clarification is present in the form of an apparent offer. If this offer can be thrown out, the comma is put. Example: They rode a boat and, although already frozen, prepared to catch fish.

In the case of using allied structures:

both - and;

not so much - how much;

not only but;

If not - then;

Although (at least) - but (a). Example: both fruits and vegetables are useful every day in raw form.

We allocate commas on both sides all the introductory words:

According to, maybe so, of course, first, secondly, it should, perhaps, perhaps, perhaps, I confess, in a word, therefore, no doubt, so, otherwise, it means, perhaps, in this way , strictly speaking.
